JOYFUL NOISE

October Joyful Noise offering will support
Family Promise of the Lehigh Valley

Moravian Village is pleased to invite you to our welcome event for the Bethlehem Mounted Police newest horse....Otto.

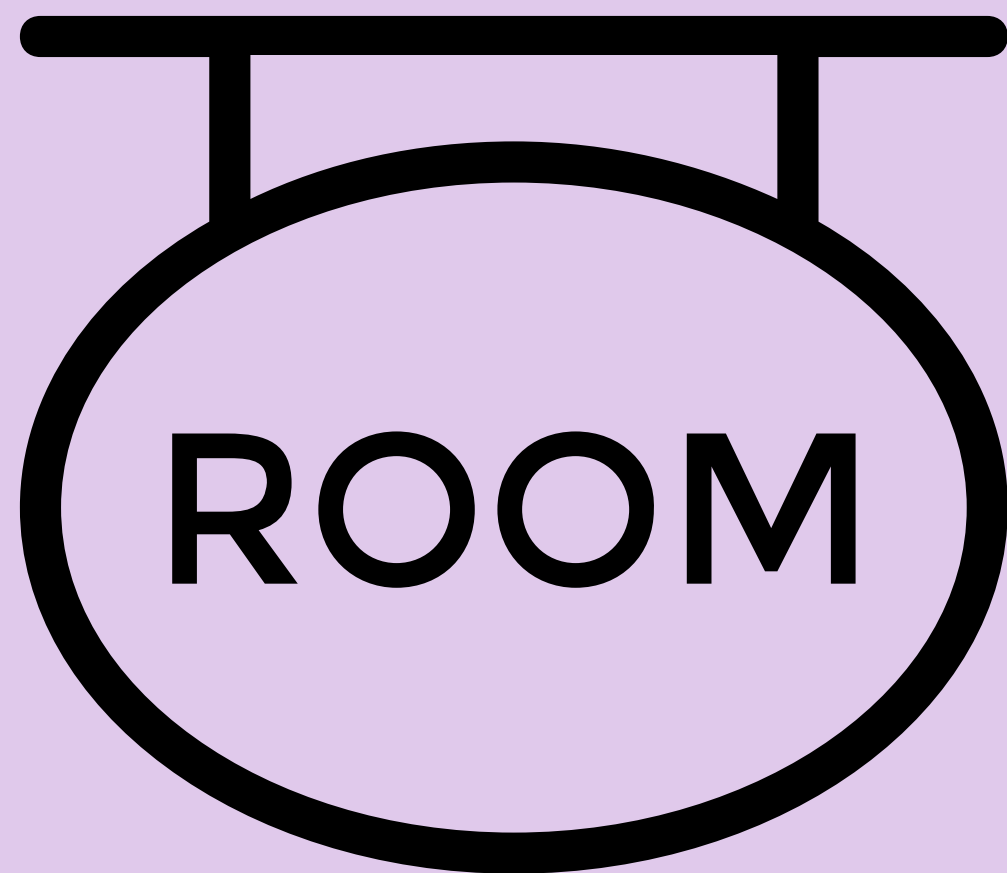

Moravian Village is the sponsor of this horse and he is named after Dr. John Matthew Otto, a Moravian Physician who operated out of the apothecary (now Mussleman's Jewelers on Mainstreet). Dr. Otto is credited with introducing inoculation, a little known practice, to prevent a small pox epidemic in Bethlehem.

Moravian Village wanted to draw a connection to the Bethlehem Moravians commitment to high quality health care from its early days in 1743 with the opening of the Moravian Apothecary, to today at Moravian Village.

Otto and another Mounted Police Horse will be visiting Moravian Village on Tuesday, October 20th from 2:30-3:30 pm.

Moravian Village is located at:
526 Wood Street
Bethlehem, Pa 18018

Historic 1740 Gray Cottage Undergoes Major Preservation Project

The public is invited to watch this rare preservation project as it unfolds throughout the month of August.

Work has begun to restore the 1740 Gray Cottage. The preservation project includes replacing the deteriorated bottom course of logs and repairing additional compromised logs. Replacement logs have been hand-hewn to match the original eighteenth-century materials and craftsmanship. Repairs will also include removing outdated packing materials from cracks that no longer meet current preservation standards.

The work is being done by Frank Stroik, a specialist in traditional carpentry methods, timber framing, and eighteenth-century log home restoration. All preservation work will follow the Secretary of the Interior's Standards for the Treatment of Historic Properties, ensuring that the Cottage's historic character and authenticity are preserved for future generations.

The public is invited to see firsthand how this colonial-era log structure is being preserved for future generations as skilled craftspeople replace the historic logs using traditional techniques. Visitors are welcome Tuesday through Friday between 9:00 a.m. and 3:00 p.m.

Funding for the project has been provided through a grant from the Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission's Keystone Historic Preservation Grant, a program funded by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. This project has also received funding from the Grow NORCO Grant Program through the County of Northampton Department of Community & Economic Development, as well as generous contributions from individual donors.

Story

Talk by Jeanne Harakal

Sunday, October 25 at 2:00 p.m.

Supported in part with funding from the Hotel Tax Grant Program through the County of Northampton Department of Community & Economic Development.

Reserve Your Seat

Join us as we share the Revolutionary War history of Emmaus and the Moravians living there during those difficult years. You will learn of the kind and generous deeds of the Moravians of this small village during the Revolutionary War and will hear of the bravery and lives of the twelve men of Emmaus whose military service was not recognized for 150 years.

Jeanne Harakal grew up in Emmaus and is a lifelong member of the Emmaus Moravian Church. She joined the Emmaus Historical Society in 2008, and through researching local history and her own genealogy, she discovered her deep local ties to the early history of Emmaus and Lower Macungie Township. Since 2009, she has served on the Emmaus Historical Society Board of Directors in the positions of Director, Vice President, and President.

Properties inscribed on the World Heritage List, such as the Moravian Church Settlements in Bethlehem, Gracehill, Christiansfeld, and Herrnhut, are celebrated by UNESCO because of their 'Outstanding Universal Value' or OUV. However, these three words can encapsulate a wide variety of issues and themes, some of which may be relatively clear to all, but others of which may seem esoteric to the lay-person. Amongst the obligations UNESCO requires from property managers is the need to communicate OUV to a range of audiences. Drawing on examples from around the globe, this presentation will explore some of the strategies that world heritage managers and their partners can adopt to not just keep UNESCO happy, but to entertain and enrich the experiences of site visitors of all ages, backgrounds and interests.

Dr Simon Woodward has spent nearly 40 years working in the field of cultural and heritage tourism, planning, and development, with a particular interest in World Heritage issues. Based in the UK, he has advised public, private and third-sector clients in many parts of the world, including the UK and Europe, the Middle East, much of Africa, the Balkans, Caucasus, and Central Asia. He is a former Chair of the ICOMOS-UK Cultural Tourism Committee and is a Trustee of two heritage charities in the North of England.

This talk serves as the keynote lecture for the Inaugural Conference of the Institute for Moravian History and World Heritage, and will take place at Moravian University in the Hauptert Union Building (HUB).

On Sunday, November 15, history comes to life through the extraordinary sound of the Moravian Historical Society's 1776 Tannenberg Organ. The organ is celebrating its 250th birthday this year alongside the nation's 250th anniversary. This special concert invites audiences to experience the remarkable voice of one of America's most historic instruments.

The Moravian Historical Society's Tannenberg organ is one of only nine surviving organs built by David Tannenberg, recognized as one of America's most important early instrument builders. Originally installed in the Single Brethren's House in Bethlehem, the organ was played for George Washington when he visited Bethlehem.

The program will feature organist Thomas Dressler, who has performed for more than fifty years, frequently on historic instruments, including some of the oldest and most significant organs in the United States. Dressler is a specialist in historic performing practices and studied with Joan Lippincott, and was featured on National Public Radio's Pipedreams.

Seating is limited. Tickets are $15, $10 for MHS members, and $5 for students.
