Interprovincial Ministry Transformation Task Force Congregation and Ministries Vitality Survey

Convened by the Provincial Elders' Conferences of the Northern and Southern Provinces in March 2026, the task force is researching, developing, and sharing tools to support transformational ministry throughout our congregations and ministry settings.

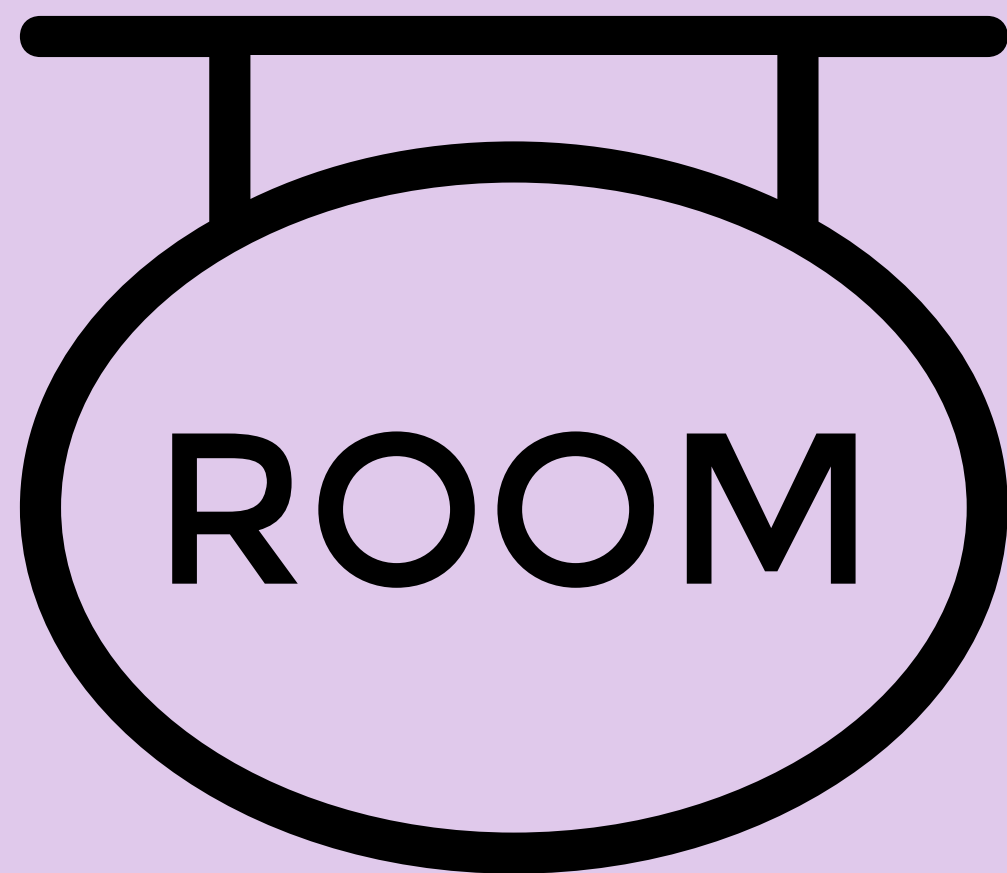

By participating, you will help us better understand the strengths, opportunities, and challenges present across our churches. The data collected will be used to support recommendations and strategies for fostering transformation, renewal, and growth throughout our congregations and ministries.

EQUIP: Lay Leadership & Adaptive Change - Two-Part Series

Click this Link to Register

We're excited to share the next EQUIP series, Lay Leadership & Adaptive Change, featuring two online sessions focused on leadership, congregational life, and navigating change in ministry.

The sessions build on one another, but participants are welcome to attend either or both. Recordings will also be available for those who cannot attend live.

What are the leadership skills needed to navigate change in parish ministry? This two-part EQUIP series introduces core concepts of adaptive leadership within a ministry context. Drawing on contemporary leadership theory and the Moravian understanding that we are one body, participants will learn how to read their congregation as a system, distinguish technical problems from adaptive challenges, and lead through conflict and change with patience rather than panic.

Historic 1740 Gray Cottage Undergoes Major Preservation Project

The public is invited to watch this rare preservation project as it unfolds throughout the month of August.

Work has begun to restore the 1740 Gray Cottage. The preservation project includes replacing the deteriorated bottom course of logs and repairing additional compromised logs. Replacement logs have been hand-hewn to match the original eighteenth-century materials and craftsmanship. Repairs will also include removing outdated packing materials from cracks that no longer meet current preservation standards.

The work is being done by Frank Stroik, a specialist in traditional carpentry methods, timber framing, and eighteenth-century log home restoration. All preservation work will follow the Secretary of the Interior's Standards for the Treatment of Historic Properties, ensuring that the Cottage's historic character and authenticity are preserved for future generations.

The public is invited to see firsthand how this colonial-era log structure is being preserved for future generations as skilled craftspeople replace the historic logs using traditional techniques. Visitors are welcome Tuesday through Friday between 9:00 a.m. and 3:00 p.m.

Funding for the project has been provided through a grant from the Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission's Keystone Historic Preservation Grant, a program funded by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. This project has also received funding from the Grow NORCO Grant Program through the County of Northampton Department of Community & Economic Development, as well as generous contributions from individual donors.

Properties inscribed on the World Heritage List, such as the Moravian Church Settlements in Bethlehem, Gracehill, Christiansfeld, and Herrnhut, are celebrated by UNESCO because of their 'Outstanding Universal Value' or OUV. However, these three words can encapsulate a wide variety of issues and themes, some of which may be relatively clear to all, but others of which may seem esoteric to the lay-person. Amongst the obligations UNESCO requires from property managers is the need to communicate OUV to a range of audiences. Drawing on examples from around the globe, this presentation will explore some of the strategies that world heritage managers and their partners can adopt to not just keep UNESCO happy, but to entertain and enrich the experiences of site visitors of all ages, backgrounds and interests.

Dr Simon Woodward has spent nearly 40 years working in the field of cultural and heritage tourism, planning, and development, with a particular interest in World Heritage issues. Based in the UK, he has advised public, private and third-sector clients in many parts of the world, including the UK and Europe, the Middle East, much of Africa, the Balkans, Caucasus, and Central Asia. He is a former Chair of the ICOMOS-UK Cultural Tourism Committee and is a Trustee of two heritage charities in the North of England.

This talk serves as the keynote lecture for the Inaugural Conference of the Institute for Moravian History and World Heritage, and will take place at Moravian University in the Hauptert Union Building (HUB).

On Sunday, November 15, history comes to life through the extraordinary sound of the Moravian Historical Society's 1776 Tannenberg Organ. The organ is celebrating its 250th birthday this year alongside the nation's 250th anniversary. This special concert invites audiences to experience the remarkable voice of one of America's most historic instruments.

The Moravian Historical Society's Tannenberg organ is one of only nine surviving organs built by David Tannenberg, recognized as one of America's most important early instrument builders. Originally installed in the Single Brethren's House in Bethlehem, the organ was played for George Washington when he visited Bethlehem.

The program will feature organist Thomas Dressler, who has performed for more than fifty years, frequently on historic instruments, including some of the oldest and most significant organs in the United States. Dressler is a specialist in historic performing practices and studied with Joan Lippincott, and was featured on National Public Radio's Pipedreams.

Seating is limited. Tickets are $15, $10 for MHS members, and $5 for students.

Today we typically associate 4th of July celebrations with picnics, fireworks, and patriotic music, but how might some of the earliest observations of the event have been different?

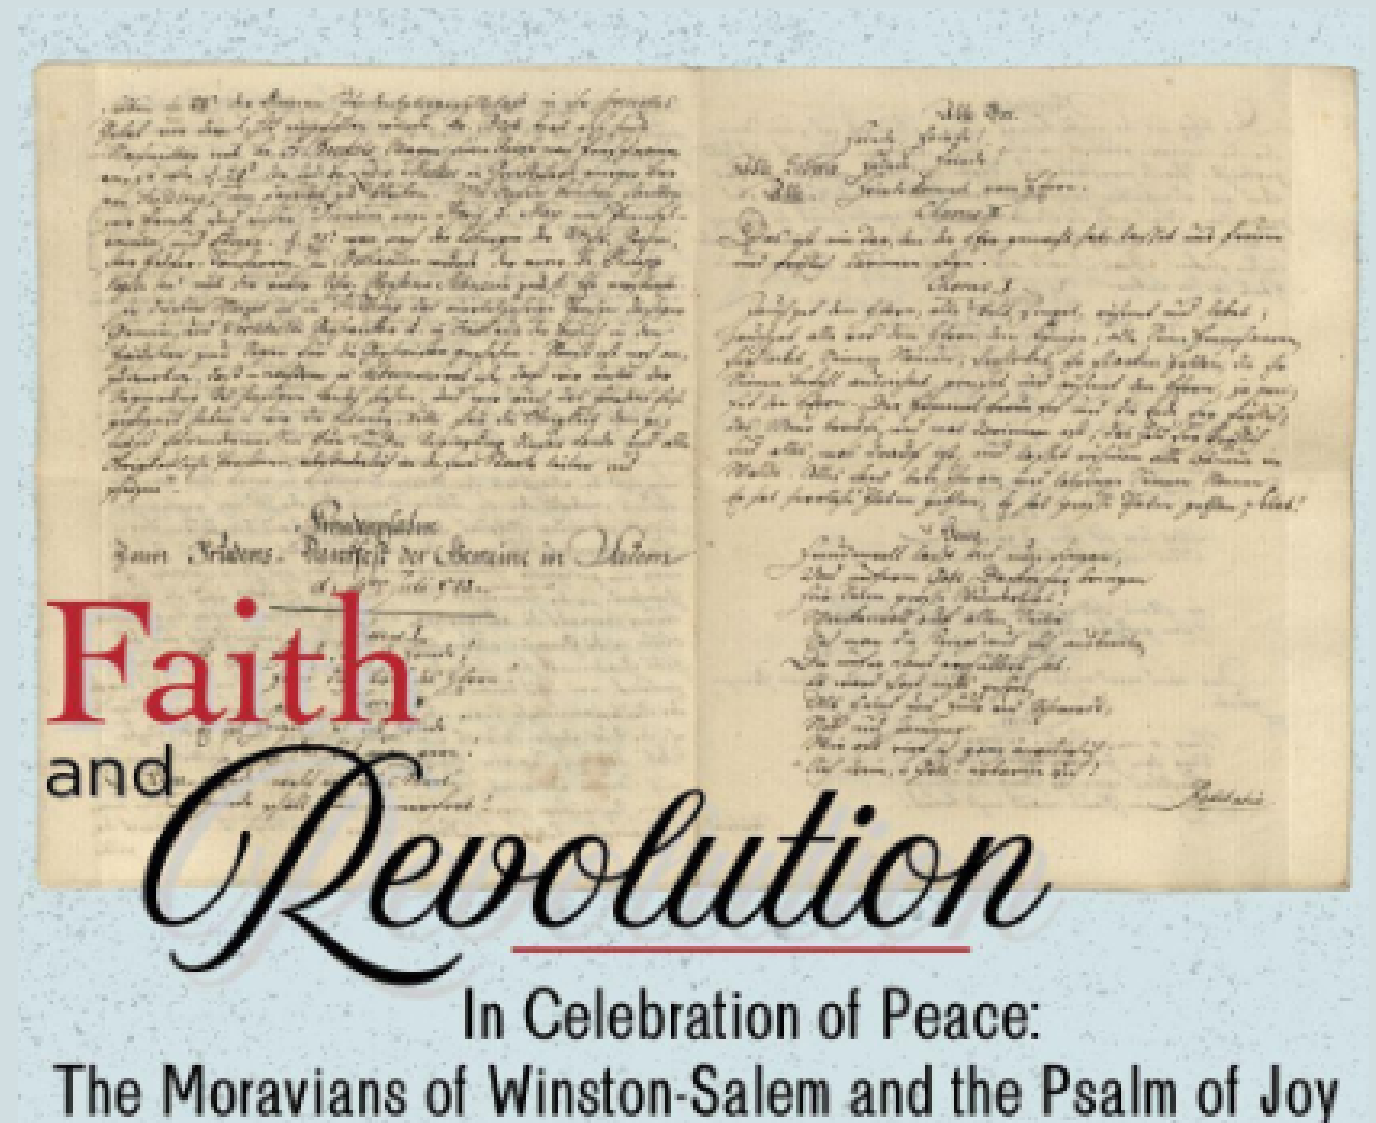

In our most recent entry in our on-going blog series focusing on Moravians and the American Revolution, learn how the Moravian congregation in Winston-Salem spent a simpler day in 1783, one focused on giving thanks for the end of the violence and chaos.
